Inclisiran: A High-Margin Opportunity for General Practice

Inclisiran (Leqvio) presents a clear margin opportunity for GP practices when supplied via the Personally Administered (PPA) route. Practices purchase Leqvio through AAH for £45 + VAT (£54 total), then claim £74.38 via the FP34PD form – comprising the £60 NHS tariff, £12 VAT reimbursement, and a £2.38 dispensing fee. This delivers a net income of £20.38 per dose.

This model also benefits patients – no prescription charge applies, and practices retain full control over storage, scheduling, and delivery, reducing clinical risk and improving reliability.

Inclisiran is administered on day 0, again at 3 months, and every 6 months thereafter, making it easy to embed into long-term care planning.

The Personally Administered route is fully excluded from NHS clawback and supports broader objectives across QOF, IIF, and PCN DES cardiovascular indicators. Accurate coding and timely FP34PPA claims are essential to protect margin.

Behind the Scenes: Meet a team member

Hi my name is Lou. I'm the Senior PPA Reconciliation Specialist. I began working with the company in September 2021 and was one of the first non-family employees, having previously worked with Daniel at GP practice back in 2015, before the merger with TSG.

With the introduction of our GP Profit Recovery System it has certainly made the role much more efficient and easier to navigate, which means I can focus on hitting my personal targets. I'm responsible for supporting the team with any queries and training new members of the PPA crew.

Born and bred in Somerset I now look after my elderly mother, which is why this job is so amazing as it enables me to work from home remotely, where I can keep an eye on her! I don't get much spare time, but when I do, you will find me creating poetry, decoupage various items or making stained glass pieces, and playing around with AI. I have a large collection of books that I'm sure I will get to one day, and when time allows, maybe even pick up playing the piano again!

“ Client Testimonial - Referral Programme

We were shocked at how easy it is to miss things and how much we had. We were so happy at how informative and reassuring Nicky was. Always keeping us in the loop with progress. We would highly recommend using the service, if you are not prepared or have time to do run these searches, it was all made to feel so easy and there was little to no disruption, it is a no brainer in terms of what you gain. Fantastic service from Nicky and the team! Thanks for working with us. Practice Manager from St Albans
